

Daniel Campbell Ford Scholarship

The Daniel Campbell Ford Scholarship is awarded annually to two Folsom Cordova USD graduating seniors planning to continue their education at a two-year or four-year college or university. One student is awarded the scholarship from the Rancho Cordova community and one student is awarded the scholarship from the Folsom community. The award amount per student is $1,000.

Background

Born in 1889, Daniel Campbell Ford's formal education never exceeded the second grade level. In his teens he became a coal miner in Tennessee and started a family. Ford despised working in the mines and especially despised the thought of any of his children joining him in the mining profession one day.

Daniel wanted more opportunity for his children and desired that each would receive a quality education. He decided to sell everything he could and move his family to California. On August 14, 1921, he arrived in California with little more than a dream.

Following his arrival in California, Ford spent many years as a migrant farm worker. He eventually became a small business owner, operating a small grocery store and gas station.

Despite his lack of formal education, Daniel always encouraged his children to take advantage of their educational opportunities. Ford was proud that all 11 of his children graduated from high school – this rate would have been high at the time and nearly unfathomable had he stayed in Tennessee. A few of his children graduated from college and nearly all of his grandchildren graduated from college, many with advanced degrees.

In 2011, Folsom Cordova USD's Governing Board Member Zak Ford, Daniel's great-grandson, established the Daniel Campbell Ford Scholarship in his honor.
